
POLICING COMMITTEE

PURPOSE:

The Blackfalds Policing Committee is a municipally authorized group set up in communities policed by the RCMP. The Blackfalds Policing Committee is governed by Bylaw 1125/11 and is tasked with the overall objective to act as a liaison between Town Council, Municipal Administration, the RCMP, By-law Enforcement and the citizens of Blackfalds. The Committee is to foster responsible community action towards the creation of a safe, secure community through an encouraging environment, which allows for public concerns to be addressed by all affected parties.

FUNCTION AND DUTIES:

In Alberta, municipalities with populations of more than 5,000 must provide for their own municipal policing. Policing committees have a voice and a responsibility to represent their communities and have established excellent working relationships with local RCMP Detachments and their staff.

The Blackfalds Policing Committee works directly with the local RCMP detachment to set priorities for policing in the community, communicates the public and Council's interests as well as develops the annual plans for policing. The role of the Policing Committee is to help maintain a balance between the independence and authority of the RCMP and accountability to the public and civilian authority. The Committee is to help maintain that balance by, improving community input and guidance, assisting in dealing with local complaints and concerns, increasing transparency regarding the operations of the RCMP in the community and removing the pressures associated with the appearance (perception or reality) of political interference.
